

A data asset moves through various stages in the overall process of being submitted by a health service. This process is known as the Data Asset Submission Workflow.

